By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ohio Highway Patrol reported 24 persons killed on the state's roads during the 78-hour Memorial Day weekend—nine less than predicted by highway safety officials.

State Highway Safety Director Eugene P. O'Grady predicted that 33 persons would be killed on the state's roads during the three-day holiday. Thirty-two persons died over the holiday period last year.

Traffic deaths were recorded by the patrol beginning 6 p.m. Friday and ending at midnight Monday.

Urge Caution On Fund Cutoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration backers urged restraint today in Senate debate on legislation to cut off all money for continued U.S. bombing in Cambodia.

Senate action already had been delayed two weeks during negotiations in Paris and Saigon seeking full compliance with the Jan. 27 Vietnam ceasefire agreement.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, in an amendment added to a $3.2 billion supplemental appropriations bill May 15, voted unanimously to prohibit the use of any money ever appropriated by Congress for further U.S. military activity in Cambodia and Laos.

Five days earlier the House, in its first antiwar vote of the Indochina conflict, voted 219-188 to prohibit the use of any of the supplemental appropriations in the bill for Cambodian air operations. The ban did not apply to prior appropriations.

The more extensive ban proposed in the Senate reflected a growing congressional concern that resumption of bombing in Cambodia constituted new hostilities undertaken without approval of Congress, at the risk of reinvolvement of United States forces in the Vietnam war.

Administration spokesmen defended the President's authority to order the bombing as an extension of his authority to negotiate and enforce the Vietnam cease-fire.

Early this month, the conference of Democratic senators endorsed a resolution urging legislative action to shut off funds for any military activity by the United States in Cambodia.

Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin of Michigan said the interests of peace will not be served by undercutting current negotiations. He called upon the Senate to exercise "a bit of responsible restraint."

'Lost' Girl Was Home

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Walter A. Robb, acting chief ranger of Cleveland's Metropolitan Park system, says he has learned there actually was a young girl in the waters of Rocky River where his men spent six hours in a futile search Sunday.

But the girl was safe at home while rangers, firemen, two scuba divers and police from two suburbs searched the river near the Rockcliff Ford bridge in Rocky River Reservation.

Robb said he received a telephone call today from a member of the family of 12-year-old Misty Kuberak of Lakewood saying Misty was the girl who was seen in trouble in the river.

Robb said he was told that Misty had been wading in the water and was swept through a sluiceway at the ford. The park ranger says she managed to get out of the water by herself and went home.

Meanwhile, witnesses who saw her swept through the sluiceway had called for help.

Aussie Leader To Stop In U.S.

CANBERRA (AP) — Prime Minister Gough Whitlam says the relationship between Australia and the United States is so close that he doesn't have to wait for an official invitation to visit Washington.

Whitlam said today he would visit Washington on his way from Mexico to Canada to attend a conference in early August.

The Australian prime minister was asked in parliament whether he had been invited by President Nixon to the White House. There has been a marked coolness in relations between the two countries caused by Whitlam's criticism of Nixon's Vietnam bombing policy early this year.

time, many major oil companies say they do not have enough crude oil and have begun allocations to dealers based on 1972 sales.

"Not many months ago we were hounded by salesmen wanting to sell fuel. Now you have to scrounge all over the place," says Ray Alderson of Yellow Freightways in Kansas City.

Transit officials seek bids for fuel and get no replies. State troopers in Florida have been ordered to cut back mileage. Taxi drivers in a Des Moines, Iowa, fleet have been told not to turn on their air conditioners.

The effects of the shortage have been felt or feared for weeks by many whose livelihood depends directly or indirectly on motor fuel. But there is little evidence that car owners have curbed personal driving.

48 Persons Die As 160 Twisters Rake Nation

By CRAIG AMMERMAN Associated Press Writer

A record number of tornadoes dipped to earth from storm systems across the Midwest and South over the Memorial Day weekend, claiming at least 48 lives in multi-million dollar trails of destruction.

Several small towns were all but obliterated as about 160 tornadoes turned the long weekend into a holiday of horror for thousands.

Deaths were reported in 11 states from Oklahoma to Florida, and at least six other states reeled under heavy rains, high winds and flash floods.

The National Weather Service said the number of tornadoes reported between Saturday and Monday eclipsed any previous 72-hour period on record.

Among the victims of the weekend weather were farmers in the lower Mississippi Valley whose crops had been delayed for weeks by spring floods. The new rains dealt them another blow, and some counties in the

Memorial Day Rites Hindered By Weather

Somber, stormy weather across much of the country discouraged large turnouts for the nation's first Memorial Day ceremonies since all U.S. troops were withdrawn from Vietnam.

The dead of all wars were honored Monday in traditional parades and neighborhood wreath-laying observances, many of them conducted under umbrellas. Some activities were cancelled.

Special notice was paid in some places to victims, survivors and the missing soldiers of the war in Indochina.

At traditional parades in Michigan, hundreds of persons distributed leaflets demanding that North Vietnam account for 50 Michigan servicemen missing in action during the war.

In New York City, the 106-year-old United War Veterans parade to the Soldiers and Sailors Monument overlooking the Hudson River changed from a march to a motorcade because of a downpour. About 200 persons listened to brief speeches, and a bugler sounded taps.

A World War I veteran, George Kaercher, 81, continued a 33-year tradition by leading students in placing flags on thousands of graves at Ft. Snelling Cemetery in Minneapolis, Minn.

Memorial Day, originally Decoration Day, began as a tribute to Confederate and Yankee soldiers who died in the Civil War. Congress recently changed the date from May 30 to the last Monday in May to make a three-day holiday weekend.

region prepared to ask for the second time this year that they be declared a federal disaster area.

The weekend weather systems caused five deaths in Oklahoma, three in Kansas, seven in Missouri, three in Arkansas, ten in Tennessee, one in Mississippi, seven in Alabama, two in Georgia, one in Florida, seven in North Carolina and two in Virginia. In addition, six persons in North Carolina and one in Virginia were listed as missing and presumed drowned.

The storms began Saturday in eastern Oklahoma and continued into Monday night, when a tornado at Athens, Ga., took the life of one person and left more than 60 injured.

Reports from local officials indicated total losses would climb well above $100 million. The worst damage appeared to be in small towns such as Brent, Ala., and Keefeton, Okla., and in the city of Jonesboro, Ark.

The storms began their weekend of terror in Keefeton, a community of 400 in eastern Oklahoma. Officials said a funnel cloud dropped from the sky just west of town on Saturday and proceeded to make a half-mile-wide swath of destruction.

Destroyed was 75 per cent of Keefeton, including 150 homes, 125 cars and virtually all of the business district. Five persons, including four members of the same family who were rushing toward a shelter, were killed.

As the storms criss-crossed the Midwest and South during the weekend, a great many of the deaths resulted from drownings. Flash floods and wind-whipped lakes knocked out power, swept away homes and uprooted trees in state after state as the storms moved first southeast and then up the East Coast.

Skylab Crewmen To Begin Work With Telescopes

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab astronaut Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin today pointed a battery of telescopes at the sun, hoping to give scientists their best look yet at how this seething sphere of gases controls our solar system.

Physicists also hope the experiment will help unlock the secret of controlled thermonuclear fusion, the source of the sun's energy. This might aid in the search for an unlimited, pollution-free power source on earth.

While Kerwin tuned up the $107-million array, Charles Conrad Jr. and Paul J. Weitz assembled cameras and sensors which they'll use starting Wednesday to survey the earth's resources.

It was the fifth day of the planned 28-day orbital flight.

The telescopes are mounted on a large device that is extended away from the orbiting station on long metal arms. Kerwin operated them from a workshop console which Conrad calls so complex "it's like playing three 88-key piano boards at one time."

The astronauts on Monday completed setting up housekeeping in the laboratory, which is the size of a three-bedroom home, and began their first medical experiments.

A makeshift sunshade erected Saturday reduced temperatures to near 80 degrees, far below the 125 degrees recorded inside the cabin after a heat shield was ripped away during the launch of Skylab on May 14.

Flight controller Neil Hutchinson predicted the temperature would level

ROUNDTOWN

INTO every life a little rain must fall, and this was certainly the case over the weekend. Pickaway County has had rain every day for the past week, including the entire Memorial Day holiday. The score shows a half-inch more rain Saturday morning with no end yet in sight.

But that did not keep citizens from enjoying the local parks and recreation facilities. Both Hargus Lake and Deercreek Dam held large holiday crowds of picnickers, boaters and fishermen.

out near 70 degrees within a day or two and make the workshop fully livable.

During a brief news conference televised to mission control Monday, Conrad replied, "You betcha," when asked if he felt they could complete the full four-week mission.

"If the temperatures keep going down, it's gonna get real pleasant in here. It's not bad now."

Kerwin, the first physician to fly in space, conducted three major medical experiments Monday. He drew blood from all three crewmen and then monitored Weitz on two devices.

One was a cylinder which fit over the lower half of Weitz' body and, with air evacuated, simulated gravity pressure like that experienced by a man standing on earth. Several measurements will be taken of each man during the mission to gain a running measurement of the cardiovascular system (heart and blood vessels) in weightless space.

Weitz also rode a bicycle exerciser at various workload speeds while Kerwin took heart, blood pressure and respiration readings. The physician, however, reported both tests were affected somewhat by the high temperature and that readings wouldn't really be meaningful until the workshop cooled further.

More medical checks were scheduled today in an extensive program that aims at learning how well man can live and work in space for a long time.

South Viets OK Truce Proposals

SAIGON (AP) — Government sources said today that the South Vietnamese government has agreed in principle to a detailed timetable for a true Vietnam cease-fire.

The agreement, worked out in Paris by Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho, calls for both Saigon and the Viet Cong to order all their units to stop shooting, the sources said.

The sources said Saigon has requested some modifications and made some counterproposals. They did not elaborate.

These sources predicted the following developments:

—Kissinger and Tho will officially announce their agreement on strengthening the original cease-fire accord at the conclusion of their next round of talks in Paris scheduled to begin June 6.

—The United States will halt all air reconnaissance missions over North Vietnam.

—Twenty-four hours after the announcement, the Saigon government and the Viet Cong will order opposing battlefield commanders to cease their fire.

—Five to 10 days later, Saigon and the Viet Cong will grant guarantees of privileges and immunities for members of the two-party Joint Military Commission. The two sides will fully deploy observers into the field to keep the peace.

—Within five to 10 days, the United States will resume operations to remove mines from North Vietnamese waters and also will resume economic talks with Hanoi.

—Within three months, zones of control will be delineated.

—Within six months, a National Council of National Reconciliation and Concord must be established and an election procedure set up to shape the political future of South Vietnam. Under terms of the original agreement signed in Paris Jan. 27, this was supposed to have been accomplished by the end of April.

—Military commanders of the opposing parties will meet to establish safety corridors through the respective zones of control.

—Respect for the demilitarized zone and a withdrawal of troops and war equipment from the buffer zone. Demobilization of forces by both sides.

—The establishment of legitimate ports of entry for the replacement of war materials by each side on a one-for-one basis.

—The release of the remaining Vietnamese military and civilian prisoners of war.

The sources said terms of the agreement were communicated to President Nguyen Van Thieu by William H. Sullivan, Kissinger's aide in the Paris talks with Tho. Sullivan was in Saigon for three days last week.

Find 2 Youths In Ross County

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Two boys who were the objects of a nine-hour search in Tar Hollow State Forest by scores of sheriff's deputies and volunteers were found unharmed Monday.

The boys, Fred Fuller, 13, and Rob Seagraves, 10, both of Columbus, became lost when they hiked away from their parents' campsite Sunday afternoon.

The Ross County sheriff's office said the boys slept in a lean-to they made of boards, limbs and leaves and then walked out of the woods to a farm home Monday morning.

Japanese Post Deficit

TOKYO (AP) — Japan has posted a record deficit in its overall balance of payments for the second consecutive month. The net outflow for April totaled $1.16 billion, compared with a $1.09 billion deficit in March and a $157 million surplus a year earlier, the finance ministry reported Friday.

Reality Of Gasoline Shortage Underscored

By BOB MONROE Associated Press Writer

Like the unwelcome thump of a flat tire, the reality of the gas shortage now begins to prey on the minds of motorists accustomed to driving as though there were always more fuel tomorrow.

Warnings went out early that drivers who took to the highways for the Memorial Day weekend might have to shop around for gas to get home.

Most of them made it because there are still huge quantities of gasoline available. But the locked service stations and gas rationing encountered by many underscored that the supply is not quite enough.

Demand for gas has been increasing seven per cent a year, and traffic counts continue to grow. At the same time, many major oil companies say they do not have enough crude oil and have begun allocations to dealers based on 1972 sales.

"Not many months ago we were hounded by salesmen wanting to sell fuel. Now you have to scrounge all over the place," says Ray Alderson of Yellow Freightways in Kansas City.

Transit officials seek bids for fuel and get no replies. State troopers in Florida have been ordered to cut back mileage. Taxi drivers in a Des Moines, Iowa, fleet have been told not to turn on their air conditioners.

The effects of the shortage have been felt or feared for weeks by many whose livelihood depends directly or indirectly on motor fuel. But there is little evidence that car owners have curbed personal driving.

Most drivers contacted in a pre-weekend Associated Press survey said they did not plan any changes in driving habits or vacation plans. The question is whether they will have to.

A handful of stations were limiting customers to five gallons over the weekend. Many independent and major stations have cut back hours or closed Sundays.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness last week reported 882 of the estimated 220,000 stations in the country were closed for lack of gas. Another 1,863 were threatened with shutdowns, the OEP said.

Generally, the independents are most affected. They captured a quarter of the market over the past decade by buying surplus gas from major oil companies and selling it at 2 to 10 cents a gallon less than the standards.

One federal official calls them "a very helpful competitive spur." Under a voluntary allocation plan that the administration announced three weeks ago, the major oil companies were urged to "share the shortage" among their stations and the independents.

Industry sources say the shortage is essentially the result of limited supplies of crude oil and limited refinery capacity.

An opposite view is voiced by California Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, a Democrat. He notes that U.S. refineries operated "at less than 75 per cent capacity last year" and listed record first quarter profits this year.

Is it coincidence that the shortage occurred "during a period when the oil industry is pressing for the Alaska pipeline, relaxation of other environmental safeguards, resumption of offshore drilling ... and preferential tax loopholes?" he asks.

While the debate goes on, Illinois officials have set up a hot line for farmers needing fuel. An Iowa gas tank company is selling more storage tanks to farmers than ever before.

Lack of competition in bids for bulk fuel supplies forced Los Angeles County to accept a lone bid for gasoline at a 67 per cent increase.

The driving crunch lies ahead this summer, and no one is sure what will happen. Some industry analysts predict the shortage will last into the mid 70s because it will take that long to expand refinery capacity.

Open Letter

Dear friends,

The Rev. Edgar N. Jackson states that grief is a major mental health problem and that funeral directors are obliged to help the bereaved express it. The funeral is for the bereaved, not the dead, he states. It is essential to confront reality fully: the body in the casket compels this. The rituals of grief maintained by the church and the funeral service are a 'kind of community social insurance' states Rev. Jackson.

Respectfully,

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

A bill which many legislators consider a major step in the modernization of Ohio's antiquated election laws was passed by the Ohio House of Representatives this week.

House Bill 337 provides for authorized representatives of boards of election to canvass neighborhoods door to door in order to register new voters and update their current records.

In addition to the bi-annual registration drive, the bill also provides for registration by mail for elderly, sick and disabled electors who would be unable to register otherwise. The bill also allows election boards to set up permanent branch offices.

The bill is expected to significantly increase the number of people registered to vote in Ohio. Current Ohio election laws are overly stringent and unfortunately operate effectively to disenfranchise thousands of Ohio voters. In Ohio less than 70 per cent of the eligible voters are registered to vote. In other states which have updated their election laws registration is much higher. For example, California has 81 per cent of its eligible voters registered, while our next door neighbor, Indiana, registers 85 per cent of its population. Both of these states have an effective door to door registration procedure, and H.B. 337 is modeled after their laws.

The bill now moves to the Senate for its consideration.

This is a reminder to Ohio's senior citizens eligible for the state's Homestead Tax Exemption that the 1973 filing deadline is Monday June 4. Homestead Exemption applications, which are filed with the various county auditors, must be made annually.

Even though a property owner qualified for and received a reduction in real estate taxes in 1972 under the Homestead Exemption, he must apply again this year.

244,000 Ohio homeowners age 65 and over will receive an estimated $30 million in property tax relief on their 1972 tax bills, which are payable this year.

To be eligible for the Homestead Exemption, a homeowner must attain the age of 65 sometime during 1973, reside in his homestead and have an income of less than $8,000 annually. The $8,000 limit applies to the joint income of homeowner and spouse.

If the homeowner and his spouse have income of less than $2,000 annually the taxable value of their property is reduced by $5,000 or 70 percent, whichever is less. If they have income between $2,000 and $4,000 the taxable value is reduced by $5,000 or 60 percent. With income between $4,000 and $6,000 annually the taxable value is reduced by $3,000 or 50 percent and with income between $6,000 and $8,000 the taxable value is reduced by $2,000 or 40 percent of the value of the homestead, whichever is less.

Persons with income of more than $8,000 annually are not eligible for the tax exemption and the $8,000 figure covers income from all sources including pension payments and Social Security benefits.

The Homestead Exemption is computed by the various county auditors after deducting the 10 percent property tax rollback received by all homeowners.

Funds to finance the Homestead Exemption and the property tax rollback come from the state's new personal income tax and the counties are reimbursed by the Auditor of State for the total amount of both reductions.

Over in the Senate this week a measure that will increase the size of an estate that can be distributed without administration from $5,000 to $10,000 was approved by a vote of 23-6. It is estimated that about 4 percent of all estates could be released without administration by increasing the dollar limit to $10,000. This would reduce the time it takes to settle these estates from the present six or seven months to six weeks or less and should help reduce the over crowded court dockets.

Senators Hear Barker, Baldwin

WASHINGTON (AP)—A member of a prominent Republican family and a zealous foe of Cuban communism say they involved themselves without Officer Harrison halted a speeding motorist and gave him a ticket. But he failed to notice that the man was intoxicated. Scarcely five minutes later, the same motorist drove his car through a red traffic light and knocked down a woman pedestrian.

Could the woman hold the city legally liable for the accident because of the officer's blunder?

"The city is supposed to provide police protection," she argued in a court hearing. "That's what we pay taxes for. If the officer hadn't let that drunken driver get away, I would never have gotten hurt."

But the court disagreed, saying the law simply does not recognize this kind of a claim.

It is true that all members of the community are entitled to reasonable police protection. But this is a general, not a specific, right. It does not mean that each victim of a crime, if he can point to some police error, can collect damages from the city government.

The reasoning is mainly pragmatic. Courts fear that if such claims were allowed, the financial burden on cities would be staggering.

Nevertheless, under certain circumstances, a person may indeed have a special right to police protection. Consider the problem of the person who is an informer or a material witness in a forthcoming trial. If he is in danger, the city is likely to be held responsible for his safety.

"Otherwise," said one court, "it might become difficult to convince the citizen to cooperate with law enforcement officers."

In one unusual case, the family of a suicide victim tried to blame the city because the police had missed a chance to prevent the tragedy. They said officers had come out to investigate a family quarrel, then left with things still unsettled.

But the city was exonerated. The court said even if the officers should have stayed longer, they still could not fairly have foreseen that the man would take his own life.

question in the Watergate affair because they were trained to "follow orders."

The ultimate origin of those orders remains a major unanswered question of the Watergate scandal.

But the directives led Cuban-born Bernard L. Barker on a midnight search through Democratic party headquarters in the Watergate, and former FBI agent Albert C. Baldwin III to a lookout and wiretap listening post across the street.

Both were members of a team described ruefully by Barker Thursday as having become "the best-known burglars in the world."

Barker told the Senate Watergate investigating committee he was looking for proof that the government of Fidel Castro, a government he fought at the Bay of Pigs, was funding Democratic campaigns. He did not find it, he said.

Baldwin, a member of a prominent Connecticut family, said he was looking only for a good, steady job. He did not find it.

It was the fifth day of hearings in the crowded Senate Caucus Room and five spectators were forcibly ejected by police, one after shouting that he was a candidate for president.

After that, security increased and six uniformed policemen, backed by an unknown number of plainclothes detectives, were stationed around the marble-walled room at all times.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Natural Resources division of wildlife reports it has received $2,000 from the Royster Co., a fertilizer manufacturer in Van Wert, as payment for a pollution-caused fish kill.

Nixon Drops In Popularity

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Gallup Poll reports that President Nixon's popularity has dropped to its lowest point since he took office five years ago.

In the May 4-6 poll, 45 per cent of those interviewed approved of the way the President was doing his job. The highest level was 68 per cent approval in polls taken during November 1969 and January 1973.

The latest poll occurred after the President's April 30 television address in which he denied he had any prior knowledge of the Watergate affair or subsequent cover-up attempt.

His highest popularity rating followed the television addresses in which he announced his plans for ending the war in Vietnam and the peace agreement.

The President's popularity remained fairly high among Republicans in the latest poll, with 74 per cent approving. But only one in four Democrats approved, for 24 per cent. Forty-nine per cent of those calling themselves independents approved.

Gallup's pollsters questioned 1,531 adults, 18 years and older, at 300 locations across the country.

throughout the long day of testimony from the three men who sat at the brown-felt-covered witness table under banks of hot television lights.

—Gerald Alch, the lawyer who represented convicted Watergate wiretapper James W. McCord at his trial, offered to take a lie-detector test as proof of his truthfulness in claiming McCord lied to the committee and slandered him personally.

—Baldwin, who was a government witness at that trial, said his family has been disgraced as a result of the duties he performed for the Committee for the Re-election of the President, a job he said included keeping the log of a wiretap on high Democratic officials.

—And Barker, a veteran of the disastrous CIA-organized invasion at Cuba's Bay of Pigs 12 years ago, denied he was ever offered executive clemency or influenced to plead guilty. He said he and those he recruited acted only in the interests of American national security and of obtaining help for the liberation of Cuba from Castro.

A Page Of Opinion

Unfamiliar Condition

Does a nation which achieves prosperity lose some of its national sense of purpose? Japan seems to be making a case for the positive side of this question.

After a quarter century of working hard to recover from the effects of World War II, the Asian country has become an industrial and economic giant. It is a trading nation by tradition and necessity and its successful expansion into nearly every cranny of the world markets is well noted.

The living standard of the average Japanese worker has blossomed along with the economy. He now has more leisure time and is able to afford more luxuries than any previous generation. Yet the very conditions which have turned Japan into a thriving giant seem to have damaged its national cohesiveness.

A rash of major strikes recently crippled essential services, particularly transportation. A high rate of inflation, fueled by speculation by trading companies, has put the public in an ugly mood. The government of Prime Minister Tanaka has been losing ground steadily since its record electoral win last July.

Japan may have forgotten how to contend with prosperity.

Goldwater And Nixon

By JEFFREY HART

WASHINGTON, D.C. — There are both melancholy and ominous qualities to Barry Goldwater's opinion, expressed in an exclusive interview with the Chicago Tribune, that Richard Nixon did not tell the whole truth in his April 30 speech on Watergate. That, however, is the only construction that can be put on Goldwater's words:

"Now the important question is when we get to the coverup. I am going to believe that he didn't attempt any coverup until it is proven that he was involved. I have to say it's not easy to stay with that feeling. I have to think he knew about this a good time before his speech"—that is, the April 30 speech.

This is a melancholy moment, however things turn out, because it was Barry Goldwater after all, more than anyone else, who was the father of Richard Nixon's political rebirth and his 1968 Presidential candidacy.

After his crushing defeat in 1964, and with what many Republican-conservatives regarded as undue haste, Goldwater endorsed Nixon for the 1968 nomination. In due course, this proved a large frustration for the supporters of Governor Reagan, but Goldwater's motives were clear and they were rooted in his Republican loyalties.

Goldwater had seen the party not only defeated but shattered, and knowing that it could not capture the White House if its liberals and conservatives persisted in the internecine civil war of 1964, he turned to Nixon as a centrist who could appeal to both wings. Goldwater did more. He held his Southern and Southwestern allies in line for Nixon, barred the door against a bolt to Ronald Reagan, and thus provided the secure conservative base that allowed Nixon to lure Republican moderates and ride to an easy 1968 nomination.

During the 1964 campaign Goldwater could with some plausibility be viewed as an extremist. He smelled slightly of gunpowder. He talked about sending the Marines to Guantanamo and even lobbing one into the Kremlin men's room; my own opinion is that these were merely Western hyperboles, but his opponents made the most of them. The Democrats raised an effective chuckle by countering the Republican slogan, "In your heart you know he's right" with a slogan of their own: "In your head you know he's nuts."

But that is not the Goldwater of 1973. In the years since 1964, Goldwater has mellowed into Mr. Republican and into a kind of national elder statesman. His tone has softened and his virtues have come to the fore, his patriotism, his Republican loyalty, and his gritty integrity. Herbert Hoover, you will recall, underwent a comparable metamorphosis, from post-Depression pariah to national elder.

Today when Barry Goldwater speaks, he voices the sentiments of the Republican establishment, on Capitol Hill and elsewhere, and what he is saying, therefore, is that the credibility of Richard Nixon with that key element of his constituency is approaching zero.

And judging by Republican comment—private—in Washington, Goldwater's comments are only the tip of the iceberg. And that is why they are especially ominous for the President.

It would be astonishing irony if Richard Nixon, who began his political rise by detecting Alger Hiss in a lie—ending Hiss' career—should himself be shipwrecked on a lie.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Every day I hear talk about the Watergate Episode; and more and more people personally trying to decide in their own minds if they should stay loyal to the President of the United States.

I am reassured every day that this Watergate mess will soon blow over and President Nixon will be shown to have no knowledge of alleged Watergate bugging and coverups. Thru all this terrible personal abuse he has shown remarkable moral courage and devotion to his country and duties as President. It is high time we start remembering all the good things he has done so far - our POW's freedom for example. I always thought a man was innocent until proven guilty, but we American citizens are quick to judge when frightened. Let us not panic and relay ugly rumors.

H. R. Haldeman, I feel was the true hatchet man and was feared and hated by the press and fellow Republicans. He must have held such great power that he kept anyone he didn't want, away from the President. Haldeman's fall may be a blessing to the Nixon Administration and Watergate a blessing in disguise that broke up a elitist group that tried to harm the President and isolate him from other politicians and the public.

Now that this ugly abcess has been opened and aired, it will be good for our country; so long as our vision does not become limited and ruled by fear. Let not fear rule our reasoning power! This is a good country and the people have a lot of sense. When someone does wrong, they want justice. This is good. It is high time we also realized that the 99 plus per cent good the government does do for us. The President has a heavy load of responsibilities to run this country. Now more than ever our country and President Nixon needs us. Let's give Uncle Sam and the President our faith and trust that they so richly deserve—give our President the respect and dignity afforded all human beings.

THE HUFFER FAMILY

Dear Editor:

Away back in the days of the passenger trains, there were the big warning signs on railroad crossings STOP-LOOK and LISTEN. Today, they are all disappearing. Even the painted sign that was on the city street, at the intersection of Eva Drive, East Mound and East Main, or Highway 56.

It used to be a warning sign on 56 or Main Street of a Railroad Crossing. However the paint is worn away by time, the small bend in the street is still there and the railroad crossing is not seen, until one is about 250 feet from it.

The crossing on Main Street is like the crossing on South Court in as much it has no cross-ties under the rails. When automobiles go over it, the rails vibrate and cause a clunk, clunk sound when run over.

Highway traffic from 56 that enter on East Main Street has increased and is about to overload the narrow highway. Perhaps enough traffic to warrant a traffic light to protect the safety of the public.

About a month ago I saw a small automobile almost hit a brakeman who was trying to stop traffic so the train could cross the highway to pick up the cars. It occurred about 9 p.m.

School busses stop at railroad crossings. They should not others. There could be a life saved by doing so.

Yours truly,

Dear A.:

My immediate reaction to your letter was admiration for the excellent way you have presented your problem.

Your mature judgment in seeking advice by letter is in conflict, however, with the fact that you and your parents have taken such a long time to find out the cause of your persistent hoarseness.

About the age of 13 the voice register of boys begins to change, but this should not be associated with hoarseness.

The larynx, or voice box, contains the two vocal cords with which we make sounds. These vocal cords come together when we speak or sing. They separate when we breathe.

Anything that interferes with the vocal cords as they vibrate against each other will produce hoarseness.

An ear, nose and throat specialist is particularly equipped to examine the vocal cords and quickly determine if any problem exists.

Most general doctors perform this examination, but usually choose to refer their patients to a throat specialist.

My own experience in cases such as yours is that vocal abuse due to the exuberance of youth is the most likely reason for continued hoarseness.

The yelling, the screaming at football, basketball and other games are responsible in most instances for swelling of the delicate lining of the vocal cords.

The spring and summer months are often accompanied by "Little League laryngitis," the aftermath of overenthusiastic cheering for one's team.

If no other cause for your hoarseness is found, rest your vocal cords as much as possible. Don't shout.

One more bit of advice. Some people falsely believe that whispering during periods of hoarseness spares their voice. This is a mistake, because whispering can actually put more strain on the vocal cords than well-modulated, controlled low speech.

While we're on the subject of laryngitis, let me tell my adult readers that there are many other causes besides vocal abuse.

A good rule of safety is that hoarseness that persists for more than a few weeks should be carefully investigated.

Will you please write something about "bundle branch block" of the heart?

Are there special precautions or exercises for this condition?

Mrs. V.L.C., Minn.

Dear Mrs. C.: "Bundle branch block" is a very specialized type of interference with the electrical impulses that normally pass from one part of the heart to the other.

It takes great medical astuteness to determine its cause. Office examination and the electrocardiogram can show the exact reason for this condition.

When once this is determined, the pattern of activity can be established.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A deep fear of institutional trading has spread through the securities industry, which only a few years ago scorned the individual investor and scrambled for the big block commissions.

The individual wasn't paying his way, was the common excuse for declining the odd lot business of the small investor in favor of the huge commissions paid by insurance companies and banks and pension and mutual funds.

But now the attitude of many industry leaders is 180 degrees different. They fear institutional trading will ruin the markets. They are courting individuals.

There are some interesting reasons for this. One of them is that liquidity, or the ability to smoothly match buy-sell orders, requires many investors willing to trade at various prices. When the traders are only a handful of institutions, the price spread grows and the market is convulsed. Not everyone on Wall Street was heartened, for example, by the 29.42 point leap in the Dow Jones industrial average last Thursday. Rather than seeing it as evidence of strength, they viewed it as an institutional aberration.

Too often, they say, the institutions not only own the same stocks but buy them at much the same time and sell them almost in unison. Playing games with each other, and without liquidity, they produce wide price swings.

John Whitehead, chairman of the Security Industry Association, provided some remarkable figures on concentration of ownership at a recent meeting of that brokers' organization: "One of our largest banks," he said, "received over $1 billion in retirement and pension fund money to invest last year. It placed 65 per cent of that amount in just seven stocks, another 20 per cent into eight other stocks and the balance into less than 15 other issues."

While this may be exceptional behavior, it isn't unique. The assets of scores of institutions are concentrated in the same list of less than 50 stocks, while other, very worthwhile companies, are ignored.

These ignored companies now are highly distressed about the lack of interest in their shares, which have plummeted to the lowest price-earnings ratios — the number of times per-share earnings at which the stock sells — in many years.

For the first time in decades, some of them are seriously concerned about their ability to raise capital, or at least to raise it without incurring prohibitive costs. Some companies with "normal" P-E ratios of 12 to 18 are selling for 6 to 9.

So that is one reason: The concentration of investing power in a relative few produces extremes of price in some corporate issues and results in a vast number of other issues being all but forgotten.

But there is another aspect to this situation that some people might think represents poetic justice. It concerns the fact that on orders of more than $300,000 the rates are now negotiated rather than fixed, as they were a few years ago.

Ghost Sighted

Senators Report Farmers Abused

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Agriculture Committee says farmers have been abused and ill-paid despite their "magnificent contribution" in providing America with an abundance of food and fiber.

The committee, in a newly published report on its farm bill, says farmers represent the largest U.S. industry and have assets of $339 billion, equal to three-fifths of the value of capital assets of all U.S. corporations.

"Estimates show that about one out of every five jobs in private employment is related to agriculture," the report said. "About two million people have jobs providing the supplies farmers use for production; 8-to-10 million people have jobs storing, transporting, processing and merchandising products of agriculture."

Further, the report said, farm exports are helping offset deficits in U.S. trade. Farm spending for new machinery and other production expense is pumping huge resources into the national economy.

The report asked what farmers receive for their contributions.

"First, they have received criticism in spite of the miracle which they have performed in providing our nation and others with an abundance of food and fiber at fair and reasonable costs," the report said.

"Second, they have received a record-high income of $19.2 billion in 1972. But this is only 12 per cent above the income received 25 years ago. In those intervening years net income declined to a low of $10.7 billion, and in every one of those 24 intervening years realized net income was less than it was in 1947.

"Third, during the same period production expenses increased by 178 per cent and in 1972 amounted to $47.2 billion.

"Fourth, they have been forced to go further and further into debt. In 1974 farmers owed $8.4 billion. Today farm debt is over $70 billion, an increase of over 733 per cent," the report said.

Lastly, the report said, farmers are subjected to the problems of weather, fuel shortages and to inflationary pressures common to all.

"But in spite of all these difficulties and adversities the farmers of this nation have continued to toil and sweat to provide the very life blood of our existence," the report said. "They deserve praise, not criticism, for persisting in the fact of almost insurmountable odds."

Prosecutors Want Nixon Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government prosecutors reportedly would like President Nixon to testify on how the Watergate coverup could have been carried out without his knowledge, but are said to feel a subpoena would be of dubious constitutionality.

The Washington Post, quoting Justice Department sources, said today that the President's role in the scandal is the only key question remaining to be clarified in the grand jury investigation.

The prosecutors are reported to have told their superiors that evidence obtained thus far justifies questioning the President about how his closest aides could have kept knowledge of a coverup from him.

"The President should be given an opportunity to explain himself," the Post quoted a source as saying.

"The Watergate investigation has run smack into the Constitution. We now must deal with the question of how the President can be investigated ...," said a Justice Department source quoted in the story. According to the account, officials believe the Constitution prevents subpoenaing the President.

Meanwhile, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said the Senate Watergate investigating committee will call former high-level administration officials to testify "by the end of June." Baker, vice chairman of the committee that resumes hearings June 5, said John N. Mitchell, H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and John W. Dean III would not be called before then.

The Post's sources reported that prosecutors have recommended the indictments of Mitchell, former attorney general, and Haldeman and Ehrlichman, both White House aides who have resigned.

The Post's account brought a sharp retort from White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler. He said the story, if true, "reflects a shocking and irresponsible abuse of authority on the part of the prosecutors Grand jury proceedings are by law secret."

Ziegler said the White House has asked Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson and Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox "to investigate the circumstances of these anonymous charges against the President of the United States—and to do so immediately."

The Post quoted a source as saying "There is no bombshell tucked away. Rather there is an evidentiary pattern" that raises questions about the President's role. "No document does it," the source said.

CBS News has reported that Dean, White House Counsel who was fired by President Nixon, has been offered immunity from all charges except one of obstructing justice, if he testifies about "all he knows" concerning Watergate.

The network said it had learned from unnamed government sources that the offer was from prosecutor Earl Silbert in a letter to which Dean had not responded by Monday night.

Dean was quoted by CBS as saying "I have heard something about it," but the network said he would not divulge whether he would accept the offer.

Traffic Crashes Claim 473 Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents claimed 473 lives around the nation during the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

The Associated Press counted 565 traffic deaths during the 1972 Memorial Day weekend, also three days. The record toll for a three-day observance of the holiday was 597 in 1969.

Eight Counties Have 100 Airports

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — A $1.5 billion aviation industry is centered in the eight-county Southwest Metroplex, a 6,214-square-mile area around Dallas and Fort Worth.

The area supports some 100 airports and more than 75 miles of runways. Eighteen foreign airlines have offices in the Metroplex, and nine regular airlines and seven commuter lines make more than 800 flights daily.

Plan New Dollar Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Services Administration is conducting another sale of silver dollars minted in the last century.

The sale starts Friday, with a closing date for bids of July 31, and includes coins minted at the now closed Carson City, Nev., mint in 1878, 1882, 1883, 1884, 1890 and 1891.

These are part of a large store of old cartwheels discovered a decade ago in an out-of-the-way vault in the Treasury.

About 800,000 of the coins have been sold in earlier sales at $30 each.

For uncirculated dollars in the sale the minimum bid will be $15 for 1878 coins and $30 for the others. There also will be sales of scratched and tarnished coins from Carson City, and circulated and uncirculated coins from other mints at minimum bids of from $3 to $5.

Bid forms were made available at post offices and banks around the country.

Nixon Invites Congressmen To Foreign Policy Briefing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back in Washington for a day, President Nixon invited key Congress members of both parties to a White House foreign policy briefing session today.

Nixon, who returned to the capital Monday night after spending Memorial Day weekend in Florida and the Bahamas, will be leaving town again Wednesday for summit talks in Iceland with French President Georges Pompidou.

The President arranged to have Henry A. Kissinger, his special assistant for national security affairs, brief the congressional delegation on the Pompidou talks and on Kissinger's recent conversations in Paris with North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who returned Monday night from a 17-day tour of eight hemisphere countries, also scheduled a briefing for the senators and House members following a private session with Nixon.

The briefings were announced by Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren, who was the only White House spokesman available to reporters during the President's weekend trip.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler was reported to have flown back to Washington with Nixon on Air Force One, but newsmen on the plane did not see him aboard nor did they see him leave the craft upon its arrival here.

Rogers also was scheduled to travel to Iceland with the President.

Grand Inspection Conducted By Circleville Chapter OES

The 75th annual inspection of Circleville Chapter 90 was held Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple. 180 members and guests were present to witness the exemplification of the degrees of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Gracing the lectern in the East was an arrangement of red roses, a gift of love from the worthy matron's daughter and her husband, Ann and Bob Elsea, and family.

The dining room was decorated in keeping with the worthy matron's theme during this 75th anniversary year, "Love One Another." The tables were covered with silver Mylar accented with red candles and streamers entwined with red roses and silver "75" numerals. The lace covered tea table was centered with a large emblematic star made by the worthy matron, and flanked with red candles and red roses.

Worthy matron, Kathryn Thomerson, welcomed all present and paid tribute to all the workers whose efforts have contributed to the growth of the chapter during the past 75 years, adding, "I wove a chain of love; I strengthened the chain with earnest prayer. I added the fragrance of a rose, and felt in my heart a deep content." A reading, "The Chain," by worthy patron, Clarence Radcliffe, emphasized the effect of work and prayer on the progress of Circleville Chapter. Using the poem, "Memories," the worthy matron dedicated the evening to her co-workers and her honor station, Electa.

42-Year-Old Debt Repaid

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — David Gudelsky said his faith in man was restored when he received $18 owed his family's defunct clothing store.

The $18 bill had been owed for an overcoat and pair of shoes purchased 42 years ago during the depression. The store closed in 1931.

"I don't even remember the man or the transaction," Gudelsky said Friday after receiving the money in the mail. "During those days $18 was a lot of money and there were no credit cards. You shook hands."

Gudelsky said the money was mailed to him from Grand Rapids.

Postcard Arrives 59 Years Late

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A postcard mailed from Cincinnati to Durant, Iowa, finally found its destination—59 years later.

The postcard, sent June 18, 1914, was mailed by Dr. James Irvin to his wife. Both are now dead.

A postmaster said the card was spotted when it carried insufficient postage, a one cent stamp. The same card costs six cents today.

Ashville Child Study League Meeting Begins With Laughter

Laughter began the May meeting of Ashville Suburban Child Study League as members arrived attired in the dresses, hats and purses they bought unseen during the last several meetings.

An example of members' ingenuity in altering the outfits was one who took her dress and made a long vest of it, another used hers as an apron and another made ribbon handles for her purse to match her dress.

During the business meeting a recent garage sale conducted by the league was discussed. Articles left from the successful sale were given to Pickaway County Community Action Organization.

Members agreed that for the Farmer's Day sale in Ashville they will sell home baked goods and homemade crafts. At the next meeting members are to bring examples of the crafts they are to make and a committee will be appointed to organize the sale.

Mrs. Gay Henson reported that the executive board of the Spring District Conference for 1974 had appointed Mrs. Diane Jones of the Child Development Club as the general co-chairman for the conference. It will be held at the Teays Valley High School.

The tentative theme will be "Games." Committees were set up to organize the conference and the club will be in charge of hospitality.

A letter to the club was received from Dave Barnett, principal of Walnut Elementary School, thanking members for assisting at the library doing typing and providing a hostess at the open house.

Program for the evening was a skit entitled "Press The Buzzer" which portrayed a day in a reception room of an obstetrician.

The next meeting will be a family picnic in the shelter house at Ashville Community Park 6:30 p.m. June 12th. All members are to bring their families and two covered dishes plus table service.

The executive board plans to meet July 26th in the home of Mrs. Diane Jones.

Mrs. Nancy Cummins was hostess for the meeting with Mrs. Fran Wright assisting.

Court Split On Busing Case Cuts Pressure On Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court's tie vote on whether school desegregation efforts must stop at the county line has eased the pressure in Congress for antibusing legislation.

Splitting 4 to 4, the justices affirmed a lower court ruling that barred a merger of the predominantly black public school system of Richmond, Va., with the mostly white schools in two suburban counties.

Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. disqualified himself because of previous service on both the city and the state boards of education.

The court deadlock, and the lack of any opinion explaining its order, left antibusing forces in Congress inclined to await further developments before pushing for legislation. The tie vote set no precedent, and the decision applies only to the Richmond case.

A spokesman for Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., a leader in last year's fight to pass an antibusing measure, said the effect of the court's action has been "to defuse the issue."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., a civil-rights advocate who voted against the legislation, agreed that this is the case "for the moment."

But he told a reporter the antibusing drive could be revived if the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals upholds a lower-court judge's order for the consolidation of schools in Detroit and surrounding counties.

The case is not likely to reach the Supreme Court before next year.

The Senate Judiciary Committee earlier this year held two days of hearings on proposed constitutional amendments designed to preserve neighborhood schools.

Auto Accident

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — A 54-year-old Ohio woman and an 18-year-old Pocahontas resident were killed in a two-car crash on U. S. 62 about six miles west of here Monday.

State police identified the victims as Mrs. Corda Collins of Chillicothe, Ohio, and Jerry T. Williams, the local resident.

Authorities said the crash occurred when a car driven by Williams crossed the centerline and struck a car driven by Donald Collins, 54, of Chillicothe.

Officers said Collins and Greg Collins, 16, also of Chillicothe, were hospitalized at Memphis. Police said Randy Collins, 20, and Cindy Francis, 20, both of Chillicothe, were hospitalized at Pocahontas.

The Washington Trip; when Glen tripped through the sign at a basketball game and landed flat on his face; those pigs in biology; the Cliftona; Allen's Restaurant; garters; get your head?

When dresses had to be four inches above the knee; Janet lost her tooth; Karen and Mogan got in trouble for holding hands at the junior high; ninth grade GAA; Aunda's field parties; when everyone wore CPO jackets and straight-leg jeans?

When Penn pushed Webb through the window; the electricity went off and we got out of school; Mogan, Frericks, Willy and Pontious ran shuttle hurdles; Logan passed out at football practice?

Red & Black Staffers And Their Future

1973-remember that year? The year Vietnam ended, Watergate started and Circleville High School graduated 232 young men and women to search for their dreams in the course of society.

Among 232 people, twelve of them were assigned that year to write for the local paper. They were given the name of the "Red and Black Staff," and sent on their way.

One of these heroic young writers, Don Goeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Goeller, 306 E. Mound St., always came to class with a smile. Everyone for miles around knew Don's face, for he had starred in the Senior Class play, "Flowers for Algernon."

He could always be found third period having sordid talks with Mr. Houck in the rear of the big study hall. It was some year for Don, and he can now be found writing fabulous radical stories about the legalization of marijuana on the campus of Capital University.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ankrom, 130 Crites Road, are the parents of Patty Ankrom, another star writer for the Red and Black staff.

Patty was known throughout her high school years for leading cheers, spreading spirit and thinking up good jingles to the bookkeeping answers. She can now be found on the campus of Bowling Green State University constantly worrying what David is doing.

What can you say about a girl who rides horses, makes smart remarks in English, and dates the guidance counselor's son?

Pat Currie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Currie, Knollwood Village, meets the above statements, and writing for Red and Black staff kept her busy along with Student Council, EMS and Curtain Callers. She was constantly fighting for a cause, whether it be a revised dress code or planning revenge.

Pat is now attending Stephens College in Missouri, where she will be starring in the college's spring production of "Annie Oakley."

We have just received word that Laurie Ayers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ayers, 356 Juhl Road, will be performing at Vets Memorial this summer as the world's greatest woman pianist.

Do you believe she got her start writing for the good 'ole Red and Black Staff??? It seems she discovered at South East Missouri State while singing and playing the piano for her pet frog.

Do you remember June Brudzinski, our great editor of the Circle? She lived at 220 Wanat Creek Pike with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brudzinski. She played the tuba in the CHS band, and was a member of SOS and the co-valedictorian.

Well, she has been promoted as president of Taylor Publishing Company. She received her degree from Bowling Green State and is now traveling around publishing high school annuals.

Guess who's keeping stats for the New York Knicks' basketball team? None other than Barb Souders, the Red and Black Staff member who always thought the girls "were just as good as the guys." She started as a statistician for Mr. Lawhorn's SCOL championship basketball team when she was a senior, and now she is with Willis Reed and the Knicks.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Souders, 360 Brown St., are very proud, along with her eight brothers and sisters.

Well, the super-jock of CHS Dave Truex, is at Camital University leading all the football, basketball and baseball teams to victory. Between getting to know the professors, and finding the answers to all the tests, Dave keeps busy traveling back and forth to and from Bowling Green.

His parents Mr. and Mrs. Don Turex, Glenmont Court, attribute a great deal of his success to his early days at CHS, and writing for James Houck and the Red and Black staff.

Another former Red and Black Staffer, Teresa Mallett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mallett, 421 Cedar Heights Road, remembers her days in the quaint little journalism room well. While being active in SOS, EMS, she somehow found time for her original articles that appeared every week in the Herald.

Ohio Northern University drafted its best basketball player in 20 years as Glen Gillespie, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Gillespie, signed a letter of intent late this fall. He turned down offers from such noted colleges as UCLA, Southern Cal. and Andy Granitelli Tech.

He credits his interest and talent to his former days at CHS and to his beloved mother, Doris. Glen also ran track and cross-country while in high school, and added much to CHS, including his big mouth and over-bearing ways.

We hope ONU has a soft bench during basketball season and an easy schedule.

Could anyone ever forget Deb Brian's famous line in the class play, "Right away, Burt!?" The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brian Jr., Knollwood Village, Deb was constantly thinking up new projects for Student Council.

Whether it be taking pictures of the basketball players' legs, or buying T-

Jeff Robbins: It's about time!

Deb McCauley: WEO! When's the party?

R. N. Phillips: Frogstastic!!!

Craig Wills: I'm glad we get parole.

Glen Gillespie: Is this a true or false, or multiple choice question?

'73 Grads To Embark On New, Different Paths

By MARCIA PLESCIA

The school year is about to end. One week from Sunday, on June 3, the Class of '73 will close its high school years.

The seniors have left many records of their accomplishments in the books throughout the years in everything they have done.

In the long years of high school, the seniors have given much to the school and the underclassmen. They've shared the joy, the laughter and tears through victory and defeat. They let Circleville High be known as "hard to beat" in athletics, scholastics, music, the arts and much more.

Some of those who are graduating are planning to continue their education, either by going to college or technical school; others are planning to work and some will enter the service.

Still whatever they do they won't forget their experiences at CHS. And Circleville High School will remember them for each class is as unique as each individual in that class.

The sad part of graduating is knowing that friends may never see each other again, and that as each diploma is received, the members of the Senior Class of CHS in the school year of 1972-73 join the long list of CHS alumnae.

As the close of this eventful school year approaches, the juniors and sophomores would like to wish the Class of '73, the best of luck in the future.

'72 Grads Tell Of College Life

On May 15 several former CHS students paid a visit to the senior English classes in order to talk about college life.

Joe McGown, Lisa Williams, Lisa Henderson, Conchita Lowe, Teresa Troutman and Debbie Goodman, all 1972 graduates, spoke to seniors about getting used to college life. They emphasized that a student is on his own after high school and that success depends upon his own efforts. They also urged seniors to be open-minded and accept new friends, join clubs and relate to teachers as human beings.

Class Earns More League Titles Than Any Past CHS Graduates

By GLEN GILLESPIE AND DAVID TRUEX

In sports the Class of '73' has contributed more than any one class in the history of Circleville. The dynasty includes an unprecedented eleven SCOL championships and 26 trophies received by the school.

In football the teams compiled a 23-7 record which includes a perfect season, two championships and a 3rd place in state polls.

Cross country records a dual meet record of 29-2, numerous invitational victories, district champs and runner-ups, and a sixth place finish in the state.

Looking Back At Red, Black

- By KRIS RIED
- 1973
- Tigers captured the SCOL crown in football, basketball, track and golf.
- Homecoming queen was Patty Ankom.
- Tiger Band won second place in Ohio State Fair Contest.
- Yearbook editor was June Brudzinski.
- Science Club trip took the members to Toronto, Canada.
- Miss Pumpkin Show was CHS junior, Kathy Uland.
- Six senior girls held the job of statisticians.
- The In The Know team won three matches.
- Co-valedictorians were Cathy Thompson and June Brudzinski.
- Mike Cairns was salutatorian.
- Sept. 6 heralded the opening school day.
- Class colors were light blue and navy.
- "Flowers for Algernon" was the Senior Class play.
- Latin Club visited St. Louis.
- Fifteen seniors graduated with honors.
- Junior-Senior Prom theme was "Wizard of Oz."

MOVING ON — James Houck, the Red & Black staff's fearless leader and much-loved adviser for the past three years is captured in a typical pose—looking like the cheshire cat! Houck will be returning to college next year to work toward a master degree.

The basketball team was SCOL champs and co-champs and compiled a 43-16 record.

Wrestling won two SCOL championships, was a district runner-up and finished as high as sixth in the state meet.

The baseball team amassed a 31-19 record, one SCOL championship, two sectional runner-ups and district runner-up.

The track team has a perfect record, as it has won the league all three years and has finished eighth in the state.

The golf team was the last team to win a SCOL championship, but this was their year. They were also a district runner-up.

Band Years Recalled

When the senior band members stepped up to receive their trophies at the May 17 awards banquet, most of them probably were not thinking of the past three years' hard work that brought them to this point, and all the memories...

1970... a brand-new, red-haired director who taught a group of scared sophomores how to march... the excitement of riding the band bus for the first time... winning second place at West Jeff... the Jackson Apple Festival... crying at the last football game while the seniors were laughing... waiting along with Mr. Dean during the May Concert for the arrival of another "bouncing baby boy"... the "invasion" of Coney Island...

1971... the "defection" of many junior girls to the newly formed drill team... more practices, concerts, parades and football games... the formation of the Band Bus Choir... riding the roller coaster and the log ride at King's Island... getting sunburned at commencement practice...

1972... the many miseries (and joys) of band camp... celebrating after an incredible second place performance at the State Fair... singing "Ding-a-ling" on the bus... the "Mud Bowl" at Athens... freezing during Pumpkin Show... recording sessions... the last concert...

Commencement '73 and the Memorial Day parade... a lot of grumbling to cover up a sentimental tear or two...

Goodbyes Said

The Class of '74 would like to take this opportunity to say goodbye and good luck to the seniors of '73.

When students share a building with a class like that of '73, they get to know them very well. A person learns what they think, and why they do the things they do. But most important of all, students become close friends.

Many of us, the Junior Class, will miss the Class of '73, a class which has contributed a lot to Circleville High School.

Budget For CIA Near $1 Billion

LA MOURE, N.D. (AP) — A member of the Senate watchdog committee for the nation's spy agencies said Friday night that the budget for the Central Intelligence Agency is less than $1 billion a year.

Sen. Milton R. Young R-N.D., said in an interview that the overall annual budget for the three top American intelligence agencies — the CIA, the Defense Intelligence Agency and the National Security Agency — is about $3 billion and the CIA receives the "smallest portion of that figure."

The $3 billion figure is about half the estimate used by some critics of the Defense Department and its related agencies. They estimated as recently as a month ago that the three big spy agencies consume $6 billion a year.

Help For Criminal Offenders Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Help for the mentally disturbed criminal offender is the goal of a newly created system of clinics the state has set up with federal assistance.

The newest of five clinics opens in Cincinnati this month.

The Hamilton County Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board will operate it.

The state provided about $33,000 for the forensic psychiatric facility to go with a grant of $46,000 from the federal government under the Safe Streets Act of 1968.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

No Longer A 'Minor' Problem

DEAR ABBY: Our son was given every opportunity for as much education as he wanted, plus room and board without costing him a quarter, but as the kids say today, "he blew it."

Now he comes and goes as he pleases, lounges around the house, reading, listening to records, eating like a king, contributing nothing, and making long speeches about what is wrong with the world. We told him to please get out until he either gets a job or goes back to school and completes his education. So far, neither alternatives appeal to him.

He says that he is a minor and we have to take care of him until he is 21. That means another eight months, and I don't think we can take it. Any suggestions?

HAD IT IN DETROIT

DEAR HAD IT: In Detroit your son is an adult at 18, and he has no more right to live on your property than a stranger. You can give him the official 30 day notice to move out of your home, and if he refuses, the court will advise him that he has 10 days to move, after which, they will "help" him.

You don't live in Detroit—you live in Atlanta, Ga., or Muscatine, Ia., or Boston, Mass.? Well, ring up your local Legal Aid Society and find out what the law in your community says.

DEAR ABBY: I have a beautiful 22-year-old daughter. She has always had many boy friends and girl friends until about a year ago when she met this one girl at school. Since then, nothing has been the same.

My daughter has dropped all her other friends and she associates only with this one girl. They are together morning, noon, and night. They have all their classes together, and after school this friend comes home with her, eats dinner here, and on weekends she spends the nights here.

They never have dates, but it doesn't seem to bother them—they are so wrapped up with each other. It just doesn't seem normal to me.

Abby, I am beginning to wonder about the relationship between these two girls. I love my daughter more than my own life. What should I do?

HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Let your daughter know you love her and accept her as she is. There is no more convincing proof of your love.

DEAR ABBY: What would you say about a guy who is so egotistical he flies the American flag on his birthday? He was in World War II, and all he ever did for his country was get a dishonorable discharge.

Isn't there a law against flying the American flag whenever you feel like it? And if so, what is the penalty, and where do I turn this conceited bum in?

Nothing would give me more pleasure. Thank you.

GALVESTON, TEX.

DEAR GALVESTON: You'd better find another way to punish the guy. There is no law against flying the American flag anytime, or all the time.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the housewife who said her husband got all kinds of offers from willing women to have coffee and "something" while making a delivery: I've been installing phones for five years, and the most I've ever been offered was a cup of coffee and a piece of cake.

I hope all wives whose husbands make deliveries and service calls don't think their husbands are fooling around. They aren't. Believe me, I know.

NOTHING ON THE SIDE

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOREN: upstar misses you. Please call your mother collect immediately.

the establishment of clinics in Dayton, Springfield, Columbus, and Toledo. No more are planned in the immediate future officials said, because the latest grant is the final one available under the act.

Dr. Kenneth Gaver, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, said the community-based facilities are "part of the department's overall effort to treat the offender on the local level rather than in large state institutions." He called it the same approach that is being taken in other mental health and retardation programs.

Gaver said the centers will provide out-patient treatment and will not involve any type of confinement, although the Cincinnati clinic will provide emergency psychiatric services for the Hamilton County jail.

Dr. Lowell Cunningham, commissioner of the Division of Forensic Psychiatric, said, "We will have the opportunity to see the patient when he first enters our system."

"This gives us a chance to observe him before he appears in the courts for decisions on what should be done. It provides the courts with evaluation reports on the patient."

Cunningham said the clinics will provide "continuity of care" for patients visited during their confinement and added: "We will be able to treat the offender after he is paroled and returned to the community."

Under the plan, local health boards will work closely with the forensic psychiatry division. Education programs will be conducted to train probation officers of the cities and common pleas court how to better deal with probationers.

Hospital Studies Abortion Rules

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Jewish Hospital, one of Cincinnati's first hospitals to ease its abortion policy, said all cases will be carefully screened so the hospital will not become "an abortion mill."

Abortions will have to be arranged through a physician and reviewed by the hospital's medical board, said Dr. Sidney Kay, director of obstetrics and gynecology.

"This is not abortion on demand," Kay said, explaining the change in permits operations when the health of the mother is involved. Previously policy permitted abortions only to save the life of the mother.

Eye Asylum For Soviet Jet Pilot

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government today is considering an application for asylum from a young Soviet pilot who parachuted from his plane moments before it crashed.

A spokesman said the government was investigating the motives of Lt. Yevgeny Lvoich, 21, who asked for asylum after his SU7 fighter crashed Sunday about 23 miles inside West Germany near Brunswick.

Asylum is granted routinely to run-of-the-mill defectors. But Lvoich is the first Soviet pilot known to have defected since 1967, when the pilot of a MIG17 made a wheels-up landing in a Bavarian meadow and asked for asylum in the United States.

Authorities were investigating whether Lvoich crossed the border with the intention of defecting or if the request was prompted by the crash.

Lvoich agreed to meet today with a Soviet diplomat in the presence of a West German official. Two Soviet military officers and an official of the Soviet Embassy in Bonn were allowed to inspect the wreckage of the plane, which will be returned to the Soviets.

The incident was an embarrassment to Chancellor Willy Brandt's government since it came only a week after Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev's visit to Bonn.

Claim FBI Has Impeded Jury Probe

LOS ANGELES (AP) — FBI agents have impeded a Los Angeles County grand jury probe of the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, the Los Angeles Times reported today.

But a Justice Department official, Kevin Maroney, told the paper that a problem regarding FBI agents' telling witnesses not to submit to questioning by investigators has been resolved.

Marine Corps Commandant Robert E. Cushman Jr. is scheduled to begin testimony today before the grand jury. He was the deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency at the time of the break-in.

Cushman was to testify before the probe officially begins because of prior Marine Corps commitments.

Maroney said: "There was some misunderstanding, but it is straightened out now. Any witness who was under the impression that the FBI did not want them talking to other investigators has now been told otherwise."

The grand jury is to begin officially an investigation June 5 on the break-in at the Beverly Hills office of Dr. Lewis J. Fielding, Ellsberg's psychiatrist. Testimony at Ellsberg's Pentagon papers trial disclosed that men hired by a White House security unit had broken into the offices in September 1971 in an unsuccessful effort to secure Ellsberg's records.

A federal court judge several weeks ago dismissed charges of espionage, conspiracy and theft against Ellsberg and codefendant Anthony Russo for copying the top secret Pentagon study of the Vietnam war.

North Viet POW Regulations Disclosed

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The North Vietnamese captors of American servicemen were adamant: No writing on the prison walls. No noise. No discourtesy to the guards.

Regulations issued by the North Vietnamese in 1969 promised reward for prisoners who informed about violations and punishment for those who tried to oppose the will of their captors.

The regulations, which termed the American prisoners criminals, were posted in English in February 1969 in the "Hanoi Hilton," one of the Hanoi prisons in which American POWs were held.

The sheet containing the regulations was smuggled home by Navy Lt. Cmdr. David J. Rollins of Pioche, Nev., a prisoner for six years. He turned a copy over to reporters today.

The regulations read, in part: "The criminals are under an obligation to give full and clear written or oral answers to all questions raised by the camp authorities. All attempts and tricks intended to evade answering further questions and acts directed to opposition by refusing to answer any questions will be considered manifestations of obstinacy and antagonism which deserves strict punishment....

"The criminals must demonstrate a cautious and polite attitude to officers and guards in the camp.... When the Vietnamese officers and guards come to the rooms for inspection ... the criminals must carefully and neatly put on their clothes, stand at attention, bow a greeting and await further orders. They may sit down only when permission is granted.

"The criminal must maintain silence in the detention rooms and not make any loud noises which can be heard outside. All schemes and attempts to gain information and achieve communication with the criminals living next door by intentionally talking loudly, tapping on walls or by other means will be strictly punished....

"The criminals must go to bed and arise in accordance with the orders signaled by the gong.

"During alerts, the criminals must take shelter without delay. If no foxhole is available, they must go under their beds and lay close to the wall....

"Any obstinacy or opposition, violation of the preceding provisions, or any scheme or attempt to get out of the detention camp without permission are all punishable. On the other hand, any criminal who strictly obeys the camp regulations and shows his true submission and repentance by his practical acts will be allowed to enjoy the humane treatment he deserves.

"Anyone so imbued with a sense of preventing violations and who reveals the identity of those who attempt to act in violation of the foregoing provisions will be properly rewarded. However, if any criminal is aware of any violation and deliberately tries to cover it up, he will be strictly punished when this is discovered.

"In order to assure the proper execution of the regulations, all the criminals in any detention room must be held responsible for any and all violations of the regulations committed in their room."

STATEWIDE SCHOLARSHIP—Three Circleville Junior High students ranked among the top in the state on the basis of scores on Ohio Tests of Scholastic Achievement. Gloria Alvarez, left, proudly displays the trophy which will be hers to keep as the highest ranking student taking the first-year Spanish examination. Jon Berlin and Jorge Cook, right, compare their certificates which show them to have achieved positions among the top ten among the state. Berlin ranked 10th in the general science exam and Cook scored third on the first year Spanish test.

Gloria Ranks 1st In State Test

Led by Gloria Alvarez's statewide victory, freshmen students at Circleville Junior High School chalked up high records in every academic area in recent scholarship competition.

The students took the Ohio Tests of Scholastic Achievement in May. Exams for this district were given in Columbus for students from Pickaway and 16 other counties.

Circleville Junior High is rated in Division I with other large Ohio schools having over 800 students. It is located in a 17-county district of central Ohio, District 5.

Gloria is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carlos Alvarez, 960 Circle Drive. A student of Mrs. Carol Mader, she ranked first over all freshmen in this district and the state, regardless of school size.

She was followed closely in the Spanish exam by Jorge Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cook, 127 Park Place. Jorge received a second place rank among schools of this district, regardless of size, and third in both state divisions.

Jon Berlin placed 10th in the state in comparison with all schools, ninth in the state among schools having more than 800 enrollment and sixth in both district classifications. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Berlin, Route 5, and a student of Kester McCain in general science.

Three other students received honorable mention for their test scores compared to those of students in other Division I schools throughout the state. These were Donna Milburn and Bill Bruno, algebra and Jane Ayers, English.

Other district winners, classed with other Division I junior high schools were:

Donna Milburn, fifth, algebra; Bill Bruno, sixth, algebra; Suzanne Herel, tenth, algebra; Jane Ayers, eleventh, English; John Johnson, twelfth, Spanish.

Ford Meets Argentine Demands

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Residents of a Buenos Aires shantytown line up today to receive 3,000 food packages from the Ford Motor Co.'s Argentine subsidiary.

The packages, delivered Monday to the local church, were part of the first installment of Ford's million-dollar protection payoff to the People's Revolutionary Army, whose guerrillas wounded two employees of the company during a kidnap attempt last week.

The company also delivered $400,000 to two children's hospitals. It also has promised to hand over 22 ambulances, a total of $180,000 worth of food for slum dwellers and $300,000 in school supplies for shantytowns.

Some Peronist youths opposed accepting the first food packages since they came from terrorist activities. But the leader of a liberal religious movement, the Rev. Carlos Mujica, told them:

"Now is not the time to quarrel about ideologies. Let's get this food to the people. At least the children will have tasted milk and cocoa once in their lives."

Meanwhile, Argentina's new Peronist president, Hector Campora, restored diplomatic relations with Cuba after an 11-year break and announced he would establish relations with the Communist governments of East Germany and North Korea.

Sex Scandal Still Boiling In Britain

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath's government continued to insist today that no more of its ministers are involved in a sex scandal despite newspaper reports to the contrary.

Two government ministers resigned last week because Scotland Yard found out they had been consorting with call girls. But the government on Monday night denied a report in two Sunday papers that a third minister—and possibly a fourth—had been mixed up with call girls.

One of the papers, The People, said call girl Norma Levy had given it the name of the third man and said he visited her three times at $125 a visit. She reportedly said she couldn't be positive about the fourth man until she saw a picture of him. Mrs. Levy was reported to have taken refuge in Morocco, which has no extradition treaty with Britain.

The names of the men were not disclosed, but the paper said it passed them along to the government.

Heath flew to West Germany Monday for a brief vacation, but his office announced Monday night that Scotland Yard's investigations had produced "no evidence of any kind" to support the allegations that more members of the government might be involved.

Government sources reported Heath had called in the third man named by Mrs. Levy and the minister categorically denied that he had been one of her customers.

Insurgents Raid Cambodian Town

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — About 400 Cambodian insurgents raided a river town 19 miles northwest of here Monday night, killing the members of a dozen families and burning 50 houses, the military command said.

Field reports said 100 militiamen stationed in Prek Kdam, on the Tonle Sap River, fled when the insurgent forces entered the town.

The military command said the members of nine civilian families and three military families were killed and 26 other persons were wounded in the three-hour attack that began at midnight.

Field reports said most of the attackers were Chams, Cambodian Moslems opposed to the Phnom Penh government.

Prek Kdam is on Highway 5, the main highway from Phnom Penh to Cambodia's rice bowl in Battambang Province. The highway has been cut for months.

Also Monday night, another Mekong River supply convoy from South Vietnam arrived in Phnom Penh. Four of the 11 ships and barges were badly damaged.

U.S. fighter-bombers had pounded the 60 miles of river bank from the South Vietnamese border. But the convoy came under intense shelling from insurgent forces using 75mm guns two miles south of the government naval base at Neak Luong.

Intelligence reports say about 8,000 insurgent troops are moving into the area around Neak Luong, which is 32 miles southeast of Phnom Penh. The Cambodian command believes they are going to try to take the base.

Crash, Rain Push Indianapolis 500 To Today

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 57th running of the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race was rescheduled for today with the pall of a fiery, wrenching crash and an ensuing torrential downpour still hanging over the ancient Speedway.

The crash came on the main straightaway only seconds after the lead cars of the 33-car field had started the rain-delayed race. It stunned the immense crowd of more than 300,000 persons who had waited for four hours.

The race was rescheduled for 10 a.m., EDT. The National Weather Service predicted a 30 per cent chance of showers.

One driver, David "Salt" Walther, 25, of Dayton, Ohio, was hospitalized by injuries received in the accident, as were nine spectators. Walther was listed in critical condition with burns on 40 per cent of his body, a broken left wrist and a possible back injury.

Dr. Thomas Hanna, head of the Speedway medical staff and in charge of the infield hospital, said most of the injured spectators suffered burns.

Drivers Mike Hiss and John Martin received minor injuries and were expected to be in the field today if their cars could be repaired in time.

Crews of the cars damaged in the wreck—which involved nine vehicles—and Speedway repair crews worked throughout the night to get both the cars and the track ready for the race.

Walther's car rammed into the wall, turned upside down and exploded into flames. The crash sent a shower of debris that dented several other cars and flew into the front rows of the crowd only about 20 feet from the track.

The crash sheared off two steel poles supporting a cable and wire mesh fence above the wall, but the cables kept the cars and bigger pieces of wreckage from going into the grandstand.

Only Walther's McLaren was ruled out of the race.

Martin and Hiss both said they felt their crews would have their Eagle automobiles ready to go. Lee Kunzman's Eagle was questionable since it sustained heavy damage, but the crew insisted it would be ready.

The race was scheduled to be a total restart, with rows of three where possible, and drivers moving up to fill the empty spaces.

There were four showers, the final one only 20 minutes after the crash.

The front row—polesitter Johnny Rutherford and former champions Bobby Unser and Mark Donohue—was not involved in the accident, nor were three other former champions, three-time winner A.J. Foyt, Mario Andretti and Al Unser.

Frericks Places Second In State Track Events

Circleville's Tom Frericks came up with fine efforts to place second in both the shot and discus in the State high school Class AA track meet Saturday at Ohio State University.

The Tiger strongman was beaten in both events by record breaking performances. Frericks hurled the shot 58 feet 9 inches and tossed the discus 173 feet to gain second spots.

Don Allhouse of Paulding captured the shot with 59 feet 5 3/4 inches, breaking the old mark of 58 feet 11 inches. Courtland's Steven James hurled the discus 175 feet 7 inches to break the old mark of 175 feet.

Logan Elm's Tom Sykes finished 11th in the AA 2-mile run with a time of 10:08.8. Rick Metzger of Westfall placed 11th in the A mile run with a time of 4:42.6.

Brian Storm of Washington C. H. was named the outstanding performer in Class AA. The Blue Lion speedster won the 100-yard dash in 9.7 and captured the 220-yard dash with a time of 22.3.

Other performers of interest to area fans were: Tim Shumaker, Wilmington, shot, fourth, 58 feet 2 inches; Mark Fehring, Hillsboro, pole vault, tie for fourth, 12 feet 8 inches; Jim Buck, Hillsboro, 880 run, third, 1:56.2; Roger Lyons, Zane Trace, long jump, fourth, 21 feet 1-2 inch; John Climber, Southeastern, mile run, fifth, 4:32.3; Chris Tolliver, Logan, mile run, third, 4:20.1; Charles Tyler, Adena, 440 dash, second, 50.3, and 220 dash, fifth, 23.0; Adena mile relay team, third, 3:28.2; Jim Bryans, Unioto, shot, sixth, 52 feet, and also placed in the discus.

Final standings in the AA competition: Brookville, 33 points; Leavittsburg Labrae, 25; Blanchester, 21; Washington C. H., 20; Dayton Jefferson, 18; Warrensville Heights, 18; Cadiz, 17; Circleville, 16. Adena placed eighth in A competition with 16 points.

Disputed Morgan Hit Gives Reds Win Over Cubs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Stocky Pat Bourque got baseball's first metric home run Monday, but the Cincinnati Reds got the break—by inches—to end a three-game skid against the Chicago Cubs.

The slump-ridden Reds scored the disputed run in a 6-5 victory in the ninth inning when Joe Morgan laced a drive off the glove of a lunging Bourque at first base.

"That ball was six inches foul when it hit next to the bag," protested Bourque, "and it was two feet foul by the time it got to me."

Earlier the 220-pound Bourque slammed a drive over the right field fence at 330 feet or 100.58 meters. It was the first home run since Cincinnati officials announced Saturday they were introducing the metric system to baseball.

"What's the big deal about a metric homer," asked the 26-year-old Worcester, Mass., native. "Maybe it's big here in Cincinnati, but it doesn't mean that much to me."

It was the second major league homer for the Cubs' second-year player.

Morgan's game-winning single sparked rage from Cub players and coaches who stormed around umpire Augie Donatelli to argue the call.

"I almost didn't dive for it because I knew it was going foul," said Bourque. "I was just going to let it go."

But Morgan disagreed.

"I guarantee the films will show it was fair," said Morgan.

The ball bounced off Bourque's glove and when he stumbled while retrieving it in foul territory, Darrel Chaney raced home from second with the winning run that snapped the Reds' longest losing streak of the season.

The Cubs had won the first three games of the series, including a pair of back-to-back shutouts.

"The way we've been scoring runs," said Morgan, "we better get 'em any way we can."

A first-inning run on Johnny Bench's sacrifice fly ended a string of 19 scoreless innings for the Reds.

Chicago's Billy Williams hit a solo homer for the Cubs in the fifth—his sixth of the year—to give the Cubs a 5-4 lead. But the Reds tied it when second baseman Glen Beckert bobbled a grounder, allowing a runner to score from second.

The Cubs return to Chicago Tuesday to face former manager Leo Durocher and the Houston Astros. The Reds head to St. Louis.

ALL TIED UP—Ed Vatch of South Addison, Ill., member of the University of Wisconsin wrestling team, tugs on the shoulder of Ruslan Ashuraliyev of the Soviet Union during their 149.5 pound match in dual meet between the Russians and the United States in Madison, Wis. Vatch was the only American to win his match.

Wood Whips Tribe Twice, 6-3, 4-0

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wilbur Wood pitched a six-hitter Monday night. In two games, that is, not one.

"Wilbur Wonderful" added a pair of victories to his imposing total with his latest work of art, 6-3 and 4-0 decisions over the befuddled Cleveland Indians.

The White Sox' Left Arm went five innings in the first game, continuation of a 16-inning suspended affair from Saturday night, and gave up two hits and one unearned run. He fired a four-hitter in the regulation game to bring his record to 13-3, the best by far in the majors.

Incidentally, his 13 victories are half the White Sox' total.

In the other American League games, the Minnesota Twins defeated the Baltimore Orioles 10-3; the California Angels beat the Milwaukee Brewers 7-4; the Detroit Tigers nipped the Oakland A's 4-3 and the Kansas City Royals turned back the Boston

Red Sox 5-4. Rain postponed a contest between the New York Yankees and Texas Rangers.

Jim Kaat, aided by a six-run third inning, scattered 12 hits in Minnesota's victory over Baltimore. The left-hander survived a shaky start and two homers by Bobby Grich to notch his sixth victory in eight decisions.

Steve Braun belted two bases-empty homers for the Twins, one in the fifth and another in the seventh. Also included in Minnesota's 12-hit attack was a two-run homer by George Mitterwald, a 435-foot shot into the right-field bullpen.

Harmon Killebrew's two-run triple highlighted Minnesota's game-breaking third inning.

Pinch-hitters Tom McCraw and Winton Hlenas came off the bench to drive in runs in the seventh inning, rallying California over Milwaukee.

Norm Cash's two-run homer helped Detroit to a 4-0 lead and the Tigers held on to beat Oakland for Joe Coleman's ninth victory. Coleman hadn't given up a hit in the nationally televised game until a two-out double by Sal Bando in the fourth.

Cookie Rojas' run-scoring single capped a three-run rally in the ninth inning to lead Kansas City over Boston. Trailing 4-2 going into the last inning, the Royals tied the game on a two-run single by Kurt Bevacqua and then won it on Rojas' hit with the bases loaded.

Dodgers Turn Back Phillies

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

For it's 1...2...3 strikes you're out at the old ball game.

At least, that's the way it always was until Andy Messersmith and Joe

Ferguson of the Los Angeles Dodgers decided to play a different tune Monday night.

Messersmith became the first pitcher in modern national league history to fan the first six batters at the start of a game, and matched the major league standard as he pitched the first inning of the Dodgers' 5-1 victory over the Phillies.

In the second inning, the only trouble was that Messersmith was playing fast ball and catcher Ferguson was playing passed ball.

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third...and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball...and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Lame Ducks 7-6 on Clyde Mashore's threerun pinch homer

"I'm really surprised I played this well," Nicklaus said after a front-running victory in the Atlanta Golf Classic last weekend, a triumph that was so easy the rest of the field admittedly was playing for second place, and runner-up Tom Weiskopf suggested Nicklaus should give the other pros some handicap strokes.

He once led by as many as nine strokes, and finished with a 272 total, a record 16-underpar on the tough, hilly Atlanta Country Club course.

His victory was worth $30,000 from the total purse of $150,000 and enabled him to regain his customary spot atop the season's money winning list with $176,064. Idle Bruce Crampton dropped back to second with $167,551.

In winning a record-tying 13 major championships and 48 American tour titles, Nicklaus has followed a program of rigid discipline in his scheduling, a program built around and aimed toward the major titles—the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and the PGA.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to carry through with the financial activity put in motion the past two days. Consult with those of vast experience with money to get their viewpoints. Follow them sensibly so you have greater prosperity in the future.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Try to add to present abundance since you will need more funds soon. Use your good mental judgment to take care of a ticklish problem. Avoid a situation at home that could lead to trouble.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study your appearance and see where you can make improvements so that you are at your best. Become a more dynamic person. Enjoy hobbies with good friends after work. Show congeniality.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Remove those restrictions that slow up your progress considerably. A good friend seeks help from you and you should give it. Don't let an inexperienced upstart take advantage of you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Meet with good friends for the recreations that can be enjoyed by all of you. A good day for the social side of life. Make sure conditions at home are in fine working order.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have many small tasks to handle in business matters and you should not procrastinate any longer. You can easily gain the favor of a higher-up. Strive for more harmony in the home.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — The NBC Television network, which gave us the "Today" and "Tonight" in 1952 and "Tonight" in 1954, plans "Tomorrow," a late-hour interview show, starting this fall.

The host of the one-hour program will be Tom Snyder, a Milwaukee, Wis., native. He's been the 6 p.m. news anchorman since 1970 at KNBC-TV, a Los Angeles area station owned by NBC.

"Tomorrow" is aimed at earlier risers or night owls, depending on one's point of view. It'll start at 1 a.m. Tuesday through Friday right after the Monday-through Thursday "Tonight" shows. "Tomorrow" is described by NBC as "sophisticated talk show" that will tackle controversial, adult subjects. Snyder will discuss these subjects with one or more experts and various personalities.

Some of the shows will cover the lighter side of life, according to NBC, which says "Tomorrow" will be taped without an audience at the network's studios in Burbank, Calif.

The idea for the show was developed by Mort Werner, NBC's senior vice president for program planning and one of the developers of the successful "Today" and "Tonight" shows.

When the show begins, probably in October, it will mark the first time a network has regularly scheduled broadcasting past 1 a.m. on weekdays, although NBC has been starting its "Midnight Special" pop music show at 1 a.m. every Saturday since Feb. 3 this year.

"Tomorrow" will end only five hours before the "Today" show begins and could lead to even more network programming in the predawn hours on weekdays. As Werner put it, "who knows what's going to happen from 2 to 3 a.m. if we're successful from 1 to 2?"

Changes also are afoot at the CBS Television network. But they involve a change of anchormen on the CBS Morning News, a program we always have considered a good, well-edited hour of news.

CBS says John Hart, anchorman of the show since August 1970, and his talk show "The Tonight Show," Washington-based co-anchorman, Nelson Benton, are being reassigned. The change is expected by midsummer at the latest.

They'll be replaced by another two-member anchor team, one of whom will be a woman. Their names are expected to be announced in several weeks, a CBS spokesman said.

Richard S. Salant, CBS News president, reported the change earlier this month to a CBS affiliates meeting in Los Angeles. He said the decision to change was hard to make, but that "our support was eroding." He said in an interview later he meant that a number of CBS affiliates now either aren't carrying the show — which appears opposite the first hour of NBC's "Today" — or are broadcasting only 30 minutes of it.

Seven Accidents Investigated By Sheriff's Staff

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department investigated seven accidents during the Memorial Holiday weekend including a motorcycle mishap at 1:15 a.m. today.

Roger D. Thompson, 21, Lancaster, was admitted to Berger Hospital for treatment of abrasions and contusions of the face, arms and legs sustained when he lost control of his motorcycle on the Tarlton-Adelphi Road about a mile south of Tarlton. The accident occurred on a sharp curve.

Thompson was cited for failure to have a motorcycle endorsement on his driver's license by Deputy Sheriff Earl M. Kuhn, the investigating officer.

At 1:40 p.m. Saturday a car driven by Linda Fosnaugh, 18, Route 1, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fosnaugh, was demolished when she tried to avoid hitting a car that pulled from the Circleville-Stoutsville Road onto Route 22. Miss Fosnaugh was westbound on Route 22 when Timothy Thompson, 73, McArthur, pulled in her path. She swerved to avoid a collision, glanced off the rear of Thompson's car and struck a tree on the north side of the highway.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Dan Dennis who failed to appear for a jury trial in Pickaway County Common Pleas this morning.

Dennis had been indicted in November 1972 on a charge of obtaining narcotics on a forged prescription and had posted a surety bond.

The court learned earlier that Dennis was an escapee from the Columbus workhouse.

Patrol Called To 3 Injury Accidents

The Ohio State Highway Patrol investigated three accidents during the weekend involving personal injuries.

At 7 p.m. Sunday, autos driven by Patricia McCoy, 25, Ashville, and James T. Ward, 40, Route 1, Ashville, collided on Toute 316. The McCoy vehicle went lift of center, according to the patrol's investigation, colliding with the Ward car. Patricia McCoy was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment. Neva Ward, a passenger in the Ward car, complained of an injury and was referred to her doctor for treatment.

At 6:15 p.m. Sunday on Route 23 at Shepherd Road, cars driven by Ernest O. Holderby, 63, Columbus, and Franklin D. Casto, 39, Columbus, collided.

At 4:57 p.m. Sunday, Ronald D. Craig, 31, Gregory Trailer Court stopped a church bus to discharge a passenger. Mary Lee Baum, 15, crossed in front of the church buss and was hit as a car driven by Harold F. Rawlins, Shepherd Road, pulled out to pass the bus. Miss Baum sustained a broken arm and lacerations. She was taken to Mercy Hospital. Mary Rawlins, 19 months, sustained lacerations of the left temple and leg and was taken to Children's Hospital, Columbus, for treatment. She was a passenger in the Rawlins car.

Canadian Imports Rise

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada imported $794 million more goods from the United States in the first quarter of 1973 than it did in the first quarter of last year, Statistics Canada reports. Total imports were $5.24 billion, up from $4.23 billion for the 1972 period.

Probation Granted In Drug Case

Eighteen-month probation was leveled against the Commercial Point teenager arrested by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department in February for cultivating marijuana in an area home while the owners were gone.

Barry Stuart Black appeared Tuesday morning and entered pleas of guilty to trespassing and possession of marijuana, both misdemeanor offenses and reductions of the original malicious entry and cultivation and production of marijuana indictments brought by the grand jury.

Prosecutor Richard Gerhardt observed that he had agreed to more lenient prosecution since the boy apparently was without previous record and was an honor graduate of his high school this month.

Judge William Ammer imposed as part of Black's probation that he not have any type of drug, not even prescription drugs at the advice of his physician, without prior permission of his probation officer. The youth was also ordered to go to the home where he grew the marijuana and formally apologize to the owners for his actions.

Auto Dealer Apprehended In Stolen Car

Highway Patrolman Ted Coon arrested an Indiana man in Williamsport Saturday with a car stolen a year and a half ago out of Chicago, Ill.

Coon reported today that Robert Stonerock, an automobile dealer from Highland, Ind., was arrested at the home of relatives in Williamsport and is being held in the Pickaway County jail.

Stonerock was stopped by the patrolman at Route 22 and 56 for a normal car inspection. A check on the car came back a short time later that it had been taken from Chicago on Dec. 14, 1971. Patrolmen followed Stonerock to Williamsport and made the arrest.

The recovery of the stolen car and apprehension of the man earns Ptl. Coon his first red lightning bolt of 1973 in the Patrol's campaign to cut down vehicle thefts.

Boys Charged In Vandalisms

Three Circleville juvenile boys were apprehended by city police Saturday night in connection with a rash of vandalisms.

Police began a search for the youngsters after it was found that 29 windows and a soft drink machine had been damaged at the Coca Cola plant on Town St. about 8 p.m.

The officers finally caught up with the juveniles, 13, 14 and 15 years of age, several hours later and took them into custody. The boys also admitted to breaking a number of car antennas in the area of Union and S. Scioto Sts.

Two of the juveniles were released in the custody of their parents and the third was placed in county jail pending a hearing Tuesday morning.

Increases In Salary For Teays Valley Employees Approved By Board Monday

Teays Valley's Board of Education approved a six-point agreement with its district teachers and put several of the items into effect at its meeting Monday.

The board agreed to a salary improvement for the professional staff, raising the base index to $6,700 with comparable percentage increases at all levels. The current state minimum salary is $6,400. The pay schedule of the administrative staff was similarly adjusted.

Increases were also authorized for the non-certificated personnel schedule, averaging about 4.75 per cent.

Along with the agreement, the board established a daily substitute pay rate of $25 per day for teachers and employed two additional teachers to instruct physical education classes at all three elementary schools. Greg Hall and Damon Welch will also handle the elementary intramural programs at those schools, replacing the teachers who previously supervised.

Employment was also offered to Patricia Daniels and Sue Barnhill, as elementary teachers.

Resignations were accepted from Florence Collins, part time custodian at the high school; Carl Morris, custodian at Walnut School and Marilyn Kaiser, part time cafeteria help and Sherry Hay, library aide at Scioto.

Employed as replacements under one-year contracts were: James Brown, custodian, Joyce Jarrell, part time cafeteria help and Mrs. Hazel Westbury, part time custodian.

The resignation of Byron Rose, who teaches the high school industrial arts program, was also approved. Rose has accepted employment with industry.

The following non-certificated personnel were re-employed:

Cafeteria—Dorothy Barr, Jean Thomas, Kathryn Neff, Barbara

Ritchie and Jean Chaffin.

Bus Drivers—Barbara Cummins, Ronald Fosnaugh, Annebelle Hines, Lois Queen, Arlene Fortner, Julia Kaiser and June Kuhlwein.

Custodian—Robert Ward.

Educational Aides: Jewell Rose, Helen Reed, Pauline Houser.

Secretary—Doris Parsons.

A medical leave of absence was declared for Kathleen Cooper for the remainder of the school term. Judith Crumley was placed under contract as teacher for the month of May.

Also noted was the return of Jane E. Kline from her leave of absence. Mrs. Kline will serve as teacher next fall under a two-year contract with the board.

A one-year leave of absence was approved from Pamela Buettner from her teaching position at Ashville elementary.

Roy Swoyer was employed on an "as needed" basis to care for the high school grounds. A three months leave of absence was granted for Jack Melvin, custodian, and Greg Hall was employed as his replacement.

Use of the weight room and gymnasium during the summer by district students was approved. The teenagers may take part in the summer program utilizing the school athletic facilities.

Tuition will be paid to the Southwestern City Schools for 1973-74 for a neurologically handicapped student from the TV district. Approval was also given to have the high school principal secure tutors to provide home instruction for a paraplegic student.

Mrs. Anne Cook and Superintendent Lutz were authorized to attend the OSBA clerk-treasurer meeting in Columbus.

Next year, under board authorization, school supplies such as tablets, pencils and pens and typing paper will be sold through vending machines, as a student council project.

Discussion was held with members of the Citizens Committee concerning ideas in regard to the bond issue proposal. Superintendent Lutz noted that the board is expected to set forth a resolution, or resolutions, of necessity for a bond issue to appear on the November ballot at its June or July meeting.

Attending were: President Everett Beers and board members William Hinkle, Harold Peters, Jack Warner and Mrs. Janet Bluck.

Three Persons Hurt In City Accidents

Three persons were injured in three separate automobile accidents in the city Monday.

According to the report of Ptl. Bill Pontious, the Hannah car had stopped for traffic and was hit by an auto driven by Harold Ray Hott, 72, 554 N. Pickaway St.

Joseph Lorick, 43, 695 E. Mound St., suffered a skinned knee when his car struck a hole on the property of Clarence Happenny, S. Washington St., 12:01 p.m.

Lorick told Ptl. Bill Pontious he was driving through the property and did not see the hole which is used as a gravel pit.

Ptl. Jack Mills investigated a two-car accident 2:07 p.m. at N. Pickaway and Watt Sts.

Ben Downs, 80, 809 N. Court St., was taken to Berger Hospital for injuries suffered when his car struck the rear of an auto driven by Larry C. Tolliver, 24, 512 Town St., which had stopped for the traffic light.

Pair Nabbed In Looting Of Machines

The rifling of a number of coin operated machines in Circleville early Monday morning came to an abrupt halt with the arrest of a 19-year-old S. Pickaway St. man and a 17-year-old Indiana boy.

City and police and sheriff's deputies were notified at 2:14 a.m. that a pair of men had been seen leaving the Washing Well, 924 S. Court St., and a description of the car was furnished.

A short time later, the car was spotted at Porters Laundry on N. Court St. Law officers arrived on the scene and nabbed David Gillis Jr. and the juvenile in act of looting some vending machines. Both were taken into custody and booked.

The pair had also attempted to break into machines at Jones' Sohio, 905 S. Court, and Duds and Suds on E. Franklin St.

NUTRIENT LABELING... ANOTHER WAY KROGER HELPS YOU CHOOSE THE RIGHT FOODS

Those of us who are not professional nutritionists often have difficulty knowing exactly what nutrients, such as vitamins and minerals are contained in foods. A new program has been proposed by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration which would give us that information by listing the major nutrients contained in foods right on the label. Kroger was one of five supermarket companies in the nation which cooperated last year in a test of nutrient labeling to assist the F.D.A. in formulating these recommendations. Kroger's participation in this test convinced the company that such labeling can be of assistance in helping to improve the American diet. So early in 1993, plans began to be implemented to move voluntarily into nutrient labeling of Kroger's own products. Later this year, you will begin to see these labels on our shelves. Kroger is entering this program because we believe that consumers have the right to know more about the nutritional value of food products. It is one more way Kroger is trying to help consumers shop more wisely. (For a 30 page cookbook keyed to help you plan meals for good nutrition while supplies last, send 10¢ to cover partially postage and handling costs to The Kroger Co., Educational Service, P.O. Box 1159, Cincinnati, Ohio 45201. Ask for a copy of "The Kroger Basic 4 Cookbook.")

BUDGET BELL RINGERS

Consider the sausage. Buy any kind and you buy all meat. No waste... so you get more servings per pound than you get from many other meats and each sausage variety is just as good for you! From winners to cold cuts, the sausage family boasts of more than 200 members. A wonderful variety... all thrifty and dependable year round choices for meal time, snacktime, sandwich and appetizer treats!

HOW TO BUY ACCORDING TO USE
Sausages: Allow a pound of meat for 8. For Dagwoods, count on 6 to a pound.
Wiens: A pound serves 4 to 6.
Pork Sausage: If it's to go with eggs, waffles or other foods, 1 pound is enough for 3 to 4 servings.
Casseroles or Salads: 8 to 12 servings per pound is a generous allowance.
Cold Meat Platters: To make an attractive platter, buy at least three or four kinds. For mild flavor varieties, allow 1 pound for serving 6 to 8. Figure on 8 to 12 servings per pound for strong flavored salami or cervelat.
